BURGUNDY PROVENCE & THE RIVIERA

MEDIEVAL & MODERN

OVERVIEW

For centuries travelers have been seduced by the intriguing blend of medieval and modern cultures found in the picturesque French regions of Burgundy, Provence, and the Riviera.

Likewise, artists such as van Gogh, Matisse, Picasso and Renoir have been inspired by the region's rich landscapes, bold colours and unique light.

Our 16-day tour begins in beautiful Burgundy, a region renowned for its charming medieval villages, world-famous wines and Romanesque architecture. Following the Rhône River south from Lyon to the Côte d'Azur, we admire the ancient streetscape and immense Gothic architecture in the City of the Popes, Avignon, and marvel at the World Heritage Listed Roman aqueduct bridge, the Pont du Gard, built in the first century AD. We enjoy excellent provincial cuisine, visit regional art galleries and enjoy the vibrant atmosphere of the French Riviera.

Through background talks and a carefully thought-out program of walking tours, archaeological site visits, museums and galleries, you will gain a meaningful and enjoyable understanding of what these regions have to offer.

Dijon and the Dukes of Burgundy

The Dukes of Burgundy were among the most sophisticated, powerful, and wealthy men in medieval Europe. At its apotheosis, their territory was larger than the Kingdom of France – indeed, they appropriated large parts of France by playing the French and English off each other in the Hundred Years' War. After an informative talk, we enjoy a morning walk of Dijon including a visit to the Romanesque crypt of Saint-Benigne cathedral and the church of Notre-Dame. In the afternoon we visit the Palace of the Dukes, home to Dijon's Museum of Fine Art since the 18th century. The evening is at leisure. Overnight Dijon (B)

Monday 3 June

Vézelay and the Magdalene

The transfer of relics and the pilgrims who swarmed to see them were key parts of the medieval economy. This morning we visit the town of Avallon to visit the superb pilgrim church of Saint Lazare to admire its outstanding Romanesque sculpture, a combination of piety and fantastical imagination. The afternoon is devoted to Vézelay Abbey and its important shrine to Mary Magdalene, who is thought to have ended her days in southern France. Now a UNESCO World Heritage site, the basilica is a masterpiece of Burgundian Romanesque. We then enjoy a wine tasting in a local vineyard. Evening is at leisure. Overnight Dijon (B, WT)

Tuesday 4 June

Burgundian Beaune and Autun

We spend the morning in Beaune, home to the Hôtel-Dieu and its beautifully preserved architecture. This medieval hospital contains Rogier van der Weyden's Beaune altarpiece, the rich colours and intense emotions of its Last Judgement challenging European painters for many generations. At Notre-Dame, we admire 15th-century tapestries on the life of

Benedictines at Cluny & Berzé-la-Ville

We depart Dijon for Lyon today, travelling to Cluny Abbey, which was the headquarters of the Benedictine order that dominated medieval pilgrim routes. It was also the world's largest church until the expansion of St Peter's in Rome and its architecture was enormously influential. We trace it from its magnificent remains to the intimate dimensions of the nearby 11th-century Chapelle des Moines at Berzé-la-Ville, perhaps the private retreat of the abbot. Evening at leisure. Overnight Lyon (B, L)

Thursday 6 June

Roman Lyon

Lyon (Lugdunum) was the thriving capital of Roman Gaul and the birthplace of the emperors Claudius and Caracalla. This morning we embark on a walking tour through the streets of Old Lyon. In the afternoon we enjoy a guided visit of Lyon's Roman ruins and the adjoining Gallo-Roman Museum, that has a fine collection of archaeological finds from the area, including jewellery, mosaics and everyday objects. A highlight will be our visit to the nearby UNESCO World Heritage Site, the Basilica of Our Lady of Fourviere, before partaking in contemporary cuisine at a local fine dining institute. Overnight Lyon (B, D)

Friday 7 June

Fine Art & Contemporary Murals

We begin the day by exploring Croix-Rousse, Lyon's silk workers' district, and learning more about the colourful industry at La Maison des Canuts, before viewing the Roman theatre and some of the playful contemporary murals dotting the town. After lunch we enjoy a guided tour of Lyon's Musée des Beaux-Arts, which has a diverse collection of antiquities, objets d'art, and an excellent collection of painting and sculpture, from Impressionism to Léger, Picasso and Bacon. An early evening talk at the hotel completes the day. Evening at leisure. Overnight Lyon (B)

Saturday 8 June

The Mighty Rhône

In pre-modern Europe, rivers were key to the development of cities, allowing easy movement of people and goods. Lyon boasted an excellent location between two rivers, the Saône and the Rhône – the latter one of Europe's most important waterways for trade. As we transfer to Nîmes, we admire the tranquil scenery of the river and hills alongside it. We pause for lunch and wine-tasting in Tain-l'Hermitage before immersing ourselves in the world of good chocolate, at Valrhona's Cité du Chocolat. Evening at leisure. Overnight Nîmes. (B, L, WT)

Arles

Sunday 9 June

Roman Nîmes

Nîmes, like Lyon, boasts outstanding Roman remains and this morning we explore the sites for which the town is justifiably renowned. The magnificent Roman temple Maison Carrée is considered the purest and best preserved of all Roman temples. Other impressive sites we visit include the amphitheatre and the Jardins de la Fontaine, the 18th-century parklands with the remains of a Roman tower and temple. In the afternoon we recommend visiting the Roman Museum or the Contemporary Art Museum at your own leisure. Overnight Nîmes (B)

Monday 10 June

Van Gogh in Arles

Today we head to Arles, famed for an exceptional Roman and medieval heritage. Arles is one of the most important centres of Provençal culture, proud of its past yet vibrantly modern. We survey its ancient history at the amphitheatre and encounter its great modern admirer, Van Gogh, who produced many of his greatest works here. What he loved was not the culture or history, but the brilliance of light. After our guided visit of the Fondation Vincent van Gogh and St Trophime, which so inspired him, we return to Nîmes for an evening at leisure. Overnight Nîmes (B)

Tuesday 11 June

The Popes in Avignon and the Pont du Gard

By the early 14th century, Rome was unsafe: prone to malaria and ruled by scheming feudal families angling for the papal throne. After a deadlocked conclave in 1305, the newly elected Frenchman Clement V refused to move to Rome, and a succession of seven popes ruled “in exile” from Avignon until 1377. This morning we visit the vast Palais des Papes and the Pont Saint-Bénézet, better known as the Pont d’Avignon – made famous by the song. After a group lunch in a local restaurant, we continue to the astonishing Pont du Gard, part of the highest of the elevated Roman aqueducts. It runs for 50 kilometres and here crosses the Gardon river. On return to our hotel, we enjoy another informative talk. Overnight Nîmes (B, L)

Wednesday 12 June

In Aix-en-Provence with Cézanne

We depart for Antibes today, travelling via Aix-en-Provence. This elegant provincial centre owed its prominence to its thermal springs and was an important Roman site thanks to these health benefits. In the modern era it has been indelibly associated with Cézanne, who experimented with abstraction and tone here and was so inspired by nearby Mont-Sainte-Victoire. We enjoy a walking tour of central Aix, including a guided visit of Cézanne’s atelier. In the afternoon, we continue to Antibes, where we enjoy a stroll and dinner in a local restaurant after check-in. Overnight Antibes (B, D)

Thursday 13 June

The world of Picasso and Renoir

From the 19th century, artists flocked to the French Riviera for the qualities of its light and landscape, the economy of its lifestyle, and the relative permissiveness of its morals! This morning we encounter this exuberance in a walking tour of Old Antibes, the city's historic quarter and a microcosm of great Mediterranean ports. This evening is at leisure in Antibes. Overnight Antibes (B)

Villa Life on the Riviera

On the heels of the great modern artists, the rich and famous, and eventually mass tourism, came to the Riviera. The stunning coastline, running from France into Italy, still preserves some of the 20th century's most extraordinary pleasure villas, including the Villa Ephrussi de Rothschild, a magnificent example of Neoclassic architecture. After admiring the villa and its gardens, we continue to seafront Villefranche-sur-Mer for lunch at leisure. Here, the tiny 16th-century Chapelle Saint-Pierre was neglected and filled with fishing nets when artist Jean Cocteau offered to restore it in 1957. With the help and support of the local community he decorated the chapel with murals celebrating the life of St Peter and dedicated to the local fishermen. We finish our day at the bold Matisse Museum in Nice before returning to Antibes for an evening at leisure. Overnight Antibes (B)

Miró, Matisse and Giacometti

Today we make our way to the town of Vence. Here we visit the Chapelle du Rosaire, the simple chapel decorated by Henri Matisse for a convent of Dominican nuns in gratitude for kindness shown to him when ill. Afterwards we travel to the charming village of Saint-Paul-de-Vence that has been a mecca for artists since the 20th century and where we visit the Fondation Maeght, an exceptional museum of modern art set in beautifully landscaped gardens. The museum displays artworks by Calder, Chagall, Braque, Giacometti and Miró. Returning to Antibes, we enjoy a farewell dinner together in a fine local restaurant. Overnight Antibes (B, D)
