

BERLIN & BEYOND

BERLIN | DRESDEN | LEIPZIG | POTSDAM

Brandenburg Gate, Berlin

OVERVIEW

Berlin is one of the most interesting and diverse of all the great capitals of Europe.

First documented in the 13th century, the city has been the capital of the Prussian Empire, the German Empire, the Weimar Republic and the Third Reich. Since 1989 the city has relished its role as the capital of a unified and re-energised Germany.

Berlin is home to internationally renowned museums of antiquities and fine arts and has ongoing significance as a centre of contemporary art and design. The city is also famous for its musical heritage, with outstanding ensembles like the Berlin Philharmonic and three major opera houses that add great lustre to the city's cultural landscape.

Through walking tours, background talks, guided visits, fine dining and evening performances, this 14-day immersive experience allows you to get an in-depth look at Berlin, as well as the nearby cities of Potsdam, Leipzig and Dresden.

DETAILED ITINERARY

Start & Finish

The tour starts at 6.00pm on Monday 5 May, at the Adina Apartment Hotel Hackescher Markt, Berlin. The tour ends after breakfast on Sunday 18 May, at The Westin Grand Hotel, Berlin.

Included meals are indicated with B, L, D.

Monday 5 May

Arrival

After individual travel arrangements to Berlin, we meet in the evening for introductions followed by a welcome dinner at Oxymoron, situated in the first Art Nouveau courtyard of the Hackesche Höfe and within easy walking distance of the hotel. Overnight Berlin [D]

Tuesday 6 May

Medieval to Prussian

After an introductory talk in the hotel, we travel by coach to Charlottenburg Palace. Built by Elector Friederich III in 1699 as a summer palace for his wife Sophie Charlotte, this regal estate, the largest palace in Berlin, is framed by a baroque-style garden and contains over 600 gems and treasures from the century-long supremacy of the Hohenzollern dynasty. After our tour we visit the nearby Käthe Kollwitz Museum which holds one of the largest collections of works by the artist. We enjoy lunch along Kurfürstendamm, before returning to our hotel with the evening at leisure. Overnight Berlin. [B, L]

Wednesday 7 May

The Prussian City | Performance I

After a talk, we begin our day at the recently reconstructed Humboldt Forum, located in exquisite Berlin Palace. The Forum incorporates two existing museums, the Ethnological Museum of Berlin and the Museum of Asian Art. Our next stop is Berlin's most famous landmark, the Brandenburg Gate. A symbol of Berlin and German division during the Cold War, it is now a national symbol of peace and unity. In the afternoon we visit the Gemäldegalerie. Assembled in the early 19th century, the gallery's collection represents all the major schools of European painting and includes masterpieces by Botticelli, Raphael, Caravaggio, Breughel, Vermeer and Rembrandt. This evening we hope to enjoy a performance at the Philharmonie Berlin, home to the world-famous Berliner Philharmoniker (schedules permitting). Overnight Berlin [B]

Thursday 8 May

Frederick the Great's City

Today we spend the day in Potsdam. The Prussian kings left their royal imprint on Potsdam with lavish palaces, parks, and gardens, many of them with UNESCO World Heritage status. An undoubted highlight of the day is the visit to Frederick the Great's rococo summer palace, aptly called Sanssouci ('without worries' in French). We also visit Cecilienhof Palace, set in the beautiful park of Neuer Garten. The last palace built by the Hohenzoller family, Cecilienhof's rustic English Tudor design offers a contrast to Sanssouci. After an early dinner in Potsdam we return to Berlin. Overnight Berlin (B, D)

Neues Museum, Berlin

Friday 9 May Museum Island

This morning, we walk to Museum Island. On the site of one of Berlin's two original settlements, this unique complex of five state museums is a UNESCO World Heritage site and a must-visit in Berlin. Today we'll visit the Neues Museum, the home of the Egyptian Museum and the famous bust of Nefertiti. From mid-morning, explore Museum Island further at your own pace and discretion. We recommend the Altes National Galleries, whose highlights include recently restored paintings by Caspar David Friedrich. We then spend lunchtime in the nearby Hackesche Höfe, a district comprised of a series of interconnected courtyards bustling with restaurants, boutiques and galleries. In the afternoon we will enjoy a cruise on the River Spree, the vital artery of the city, taking in most of the major monuments and museums. In the evening we'll dine at a local restaurant. Overnight Berlin (B, D)

Saturday 10 May Museum Island, Pt II | Performance II

This morning we'll return to Museum Island to visit the Bode Museum, home to the Sculpture Gallery and the Museum of Byzantine Art. Around midday we make our way to Leipzig, with the afternoon at leisure on arrival. This evening we enjoy a pre-show dinner together before hope to enjoy a performance at the beautiful Oper Leipzig (schedules permitting). Overnight Leipzig (B, D)

Sunday 11 May Leipzig

Leipzig is one of the great German cultural centres, with connections to Bach, Schubert, Mendelssohn, Martin Luther, Goethe, Schiller, and the Neue-Leipziger-Schule art movement. This morning we take a guided walking tour of Leipzig, followed by a visit to the Museum of Fine Arts. The original museum building was destroyed in an air raid in 1943, though many of the paintings were saved. A new home for the collection opened in 2004, 61 years to the day after the original museum was destroyed. The afternoon is free to explore Leipzig. Overnight Leipzig (B)

Monday 12 May Dresden via Meissen

On the way to Dresden this morning we'll stop first at the 'Monument to the Battle of the Nations' – Europe's largest memorial, and the site of the 1813 defeat of Napoleon by

Frauenkirche, Dresden

Neue Nationalgalerie, Berlin

a coalition of German forces. Then it's on to Meissen, on the banks of the Elbe not far from Dresden, to stroll the town and have lunch. We arrive in Dresden in the late afternoon and take an orientation walk through the old town. We view the Frauenkirche, an impressive Baroque church that was destroyed in World War II and beautifully restored and reopened in 2005. Overnight Dresden (B, L)

Tuesday 13 May

Zwinger & Pillnitz Palaces | Performance III

After a talk, we make our way to the Zwinger Palace, an excellent example of late Baroque architecture in Germany. Built between 1710 and 1728, the Zwinger was used for court festivities and tournaments. The palace contains Dresden's Old Masters Picture Gallery, with works by Raphael, Rubens and Canaletto. Later, we visit the extraordinary ensemble of architecture and landscape gardening that makes up Pillnitz Palace. Built by August the Strong as a 'Water Palace,' Pillnitz was the summer residence of many electors and kings of Saxony. We visit the internationally renowned Kunstgewerbemuseum (Museum of Decorative Art) the oldest of its kind in Germany, which houses a wide variety of craftwork, fashion and design from the early Middle Ages to the present day. Tonight we hope to enjoy a performance at the renowned Semperoper (schedules permitting). Overnight Dresden (B)

Wednesday 14 May

Dresden to Berlin

We begin the day by venturing into the Green Vault (The Grunes Gewolbe Museum), founded in 1723 by Augustus the Strong as one of the first public museums. A treasure trove, it contains an extensive collection of precious objet d'art. Our tour this morning takes us through the Historic Green Vault, which is composed of ten lavish Baroque rooms, and the New Green Vault, a modern labyrinth consisting of 12 exhibition rooms. Following a brief lunch break, we then return to Berlin by coach with the evening at leisure on arrival. Overnight Berlin (B)

Thursday 15 May

From Wilhelmstrasse to Bauhaus

We start our tour today with the Wilhelmstrasse, hub of the Nazi administration. We visit the moving Holocaust Memorial, the site of the new Reich's Chancellery, Hitler's Bunker and the Luftwaffe Ministry building, the site of Gestapo Bunkers. Next it's on to the fascinating Topography of Terror memorial and Potsdamer Platz, to stroll around what is now the modern heart of unified Berlin. In the afternoon we'll focus on the newly restored New National Gallery, housing Berlin's 20th Century Art Collection. Our final stop will be the German Resistance Memorial Centre, created to commemorate those members of the German Army who tried to assassinate Hitler in 1944. Tonight, we dine in a local restaurant. Overnight Berlin (B, L, D)

WEATHER

May is a pleasant time to travel in Germany with spring temperatures ranging on average from the low 20s, dropping to 10 -12°C at night. However, you should pack for a few days which are cooler than this, as well as a few warmer ones. Rainfall is fairly evenly spread across the year, and it is reasonable to expect rain on at least a few days, though not enough to disrupt our program.

FITNESS REQUIREMENTS

Grade Two

This tour is physically demanding. To participate on this tour, you should be able to:

- keep up with the group at all times
- walk for 5-7 kilometres over the day at a moderate pace
- stand and slow walk for up to 90 minutes galleries and museums
- negotiate walking over uneven ground on dirt tracks
- walk up and down steps and slopes
- get on and off a coach with steps unassisted
- move your luggage unassisted

Friday 16 May

The Synagogue and the Cold War

This morning we visit the 'New Synagogue', which was significantly damaged on Kristallnacht in 1938. The restored building reopened in 1995. We then stroll through the old Jewish district and the Jewish Museum of Berlin, designed by Daniel Libeskind and opened in 2001. After lunch, we investigate Berlin in the late 1940s and 1950s – the height of the Cold War. Our tour includes sections of the Berlin Wall, the former Stasi headquarters and Karl-Marx-Allee, a broad boulevard lined with impressive Socialist Realist buildings. Overnight Berlin (B)

Saturday 17 May

Contemporary Berlin

On our final day together we take a coach tour of the modern city, focussing on its recent architecture and art. We pause to survey the collection at the Hamburger Bahnhof Museum for Contemporary Art, and following a lunch break, we visit Sammlung Boros, an extraordinary exhibition space in a converted WWII air raid bunker. Tonight we farewell Berlin with dinner atop the Reichstag Building. A symbol of the struggles and eventual triumph of the city, the Reichstag first opened in 1894, was destroyed by fire in 1933, and then became the first meeting place of a reunified Germany. The reconstruction of the building was completed in 1999 to a plan by British architect Sir Norman Foster. His plan included an extraordinary glass dome at the top of the building which we will ascend. Overnight Berlin (B, D)

Sunday 18 May

Departure

The tour ends after breakfast this morning. Transfers are available to Berlin's Tegel Airport for those meeting departing flights. (B)
